JAP ATTACKERS FORCED TO QUIT MALAYAN AREA

Anzac Machine-Gunners Balk Landing Party; Borneo Defended

SEA CONFLICT HINTED

U. S. Ships Clashing With Tokyo's Battle Fleet, Honolulu Informed

By International News Service
The full-scale war of east against west launched by Japan with her unprovoked attack on Pearl Harbor and Honolulu roared into fury in the air, on land and in the sea today.

Japan first appeared to have won another early round with successful landing of an expeditionary force on the Malay peninsula north of Singapore.

But latest advices from the jungle battlefield said that the naval units which landed the party had turned tail and fled, leaving the "few troops" still on hand at the mercy of Anzac machine-guns.

And a few minutes later came a BBC report that Japanese troops attempting an invasion of North Borneo, a British protectorate in the Dutch East Indies, had been hurled back into the sea by British forces.

From Honolulu came the first fragmentary advices of a heavy sea combat which apparently started soon after the fighting United States Navy steamed out of bombed Pearl Harbor to meet the Japanese. What seemed to be heavy cannonading was heard at sea off Barber's Point and four enemy ships were reported sighted.

While the world awaited a joint American and British declaration of war against Japan, Emperor Hirohito issued his first war bulletins, announcing air attacks on Hong Kong—where a full-scale offensive was reported under way

FEAR EXPRESSED BY RELATIVES OF YOUTHS IN EAST

Although not so many Circleville and Pickaway County youths are known to be on duty in the United States' Pacific danger zones, members of families of those known to be in Hawaii and the Philippines are expressing concern over their safety. No word has been received by any local relatives from young men in the service in these areas.

Stanley Lewis Jr., son of former County Agent and Mrs. H. S. Lewis, is known to be among soldiers at Pearl Harbor. The Lewises live now in Oklahoma.

Tommy Carrel, a Circleville youth, wrote to Circleville two weeks ago that he was stationed at Schofield Barracks in Hawaii.

Mrs. C. K. Hunsicker said Monday that her grand-nephew, Frederick Courtright Dunn Jr., son of M. and Mrs. F. C. Dunn, Columbus, is a member of the Quarter-Master outfit stationed at Fort Stotsenburg in the Philippines. She said she heard a radio report Monday morning that the fort, second largest in the islands, had been attacked by Japanese aircraft.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rankin of Circleville were in Honolulu, Hawaii, according to the last word from them received several weeks ago by Mr. Rankin's aunt, Mrs. John P. Rankin, 344 East Union Street.

Mrs. Jack Rankin left late in the summer for Honolulu after spending the summer at San Diego, Calif., where her husband was stationed at that time. Since then, Mr. Rankin has been stationed on board the heavy cruiser, S. S. Louisville, at Honolulu.

RUSSIAN GAINS CITED AT TULA

Important Highway Victory Reported; Heavy German Counter-Raid Halted

KUBYSHEV, U. S. S. R., Dec. 8—Soviet troops have driven German forces from the important Serpukov-Tula highway south of Moscow and the vital thoroughfare is now entirely controlled by Russians, the Soviet radio said today.

The enemy was reported retreating to the southwest, with Soviet forces continuing their advance.

Heavy German counter-attacks on the Kalinin Front again were repulsed but severe fighting is still in progress, it was said.

New Russian advances on the southern sector of the Moscow defense zone were claimed by the Russian high command, which also reported that fierce German assaults on other sectors had been repulsed.

A Soviet communique said:

"Fighting continued on the entire front. On several sectors of the Moscow Front our troops repelled fierce attacks and advanced, inflicting heavy losses on the man-power and equipment of the enemy."

Thirty-one German planes were brought down on Saturday while the Soviet air force lost seven machines. Five German planes were brought down near Moscow Sunday.

On the Stalinograd Front (south of Moscow) during the last few days formation of the Soviet guard captured 20 villages, killing 1,000 officers and men.

Landing On Malay Peninsula, Aerial Raids On Islands Are Discussed

TOKYO, Dec. 8—(By official Japanese Wireless)—The Imperial high command today announced a full-scale offensive against Hong Kong, successful landing operations on the Malay Peninsula, an air raid on Singapore and aerial attacks on the Philippines, Hawaii, Wake Island and Guam.

The Hong Kong attack was preceded by two air attacks, the first of which started at 8 a. m. local time. The Japanese fleet returned to its military base without loss, it was said, and turned back for the second raid shortly after.

In the first official communiqué issued since Emperor Hirohito announced a declaration of war against the United States and Great Britain, the high command gave few details of the operations beyond asserting that success was achieved in each undertaking.

In Three Divisions

The communiqué was divided into three sections.

Over Emperor Hirohito's signature, headquarters announced:

"In close cooperation with naval units, Japanese forces succeeded in carrying out landing operations on the Malay Peninsula."

The navy section announced:

"Navy aircraft successfully bombed military objectives at Singapore at dawn and simultaneously attacked Davao on the (Continued on Page Four)

European Bulletins

NEW YORK—Landing of Japanese paratroopers in the Philippines Islands was reported in a Manila broadcast to WOR-Mutual today. Japanese residents were said to have seized control of their own regions on the island.

NEW YORK—The United States aircraft carrier Langley is officially reported in Manila to have been damaged during today's engagement with the Japanese, NBC reported from Manila.

Young Briggs is survived by his parents and a sister, Charlene, wife of William Mace of Washington C. H.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

REPORTS HEARD OF MUSTARD GAS USED BY JAPS

SINGAPORE, Dec. 8—An official British communiqué said today it was reported unofficially but not confirmed that Japanese flyers had dropped mustard gas bombs.

(Editor's Note: Several recent reports from Chungking have indicated alleged Japanese use of mustard gas against Chinese troops.)

BERLIN—Japanese troops have taken over the entire British concession at Tientsin and occupied all strategic points, DNB reported today. According to the Rome radio, the Japanese took prisoner 63 United States Marines at Tientsin.

LONDON—The United States legation today invited all American nationals at Bangkok to take refuge in the legation, while Americans in northern Thailand were advised to try to reach Burma.

"It was unofficially reported and not confirmed that the enemy dropped mustard gas bombs."

CAPITOL BUILDING PUT UNDER MILITARY GUARD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8—The Capitol building was placed under a military guard today for the first time since World War days as preparations were made for President Roosevelt's address to a joint session of Congress.

Marine sentries in full war dress paced back and forth in front of all doors to the capitol. They examined all seeking entrance. Full credentials were required.

Capitol police banned the usual automobile parking on the grounds. Persons without credentials could come only to within two blocks of the capitol.

BRIGGS YOUTH FOUND DEAD IN EASTERN RIVER

New Holland Native In Service Under Tunney Missing 10 Days

Navy Department authorities at Norfolk, Va., were conducting an investigation Monday into the mysterious death of Eugene (Gene) Briggs, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Briggs of New Holland. The body of young Briggs, a former widely known athlete, was found Saturday at 6:30 p. m. in the Elizabeth River which goes through naval grounds at Portsmouth, Va., where the Naval Hospital is located.

Briggs, a nephew of Harry and Bryce Briggs of Circleville, had been missing since November 26.

A graduate of New Holland High School in the class of 1933, he entered Ohio State University and was graduated in physical education in 1937. He coached for two years at Ansonia, Darke County, and for two years at Jeffersonville, Fayette County. He was not teaching this year, expecting to be called for the draft. However, he enlisted in the Naval Reserve and was called to Norfolk November 13. He received a rank as chief boatman's mate under Gene Tunney, former world heavyweight champion.

Young Briggs was ill when he arrived at Norfolk and was sent to the Portsmouth hospital for treatment. He had access to the barracks and the hospital, being permitted to go back and forth.

No information concerning the possible cause of death was being released by the Naval Department pending its investigation.

Young Briggs is survived by his parents and a sister, Charlene, wife of William Mace of Washington C. H.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

P. R. HOSLER, 58, DIES FOLLOWING 7-WEEK ILLNESS

Pressley R. Hosler, 58, a watchmaker for 35 years and operator of a jewelry store in Circleville for more than 10 years, died Monday at 2:10 a. m. at his home, 228 North Court Street. Mr. Hosler was stricken seven weeks ago by a subdural hemorrhage. He spent several weeks in a private hospital in Columbus, but was returned home last Wednesday.

His only survivor is his widow, Mrs. Rose Palm Hosler, whom he married October 25, 1916.

He was born in Tarlton December 23, 1882, a son of Samuel E.

Mr. Hosler was a member of the Circleville Lodge of Elks.

The funeral will be Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the home, the Rev.

A. N. Grueser officiating with burial in the family lot in Forest Cemetery by M. S. Rinehart.

The body will be at the home after 6 p. m. Monday where friends may call.

OHIO REGIMENT LEAVES SHELBY

Outfit Carries Complete War Equipment; Nature Of Journey Secret

CAMP SHELBY, Miss., Dec. 8—With live ammunition issued to every soldier, the 145th regiment, composed of National Guardsmen from Cleveland and Akron, today left Camp Shelby with full wartime packs for an undisclosed destination.

It was reported but not confirmed that the regiment, part of the Ohio's 37th division, would be assigned to border patrol duty or to factory guard duty.

Predictions were freely made that Japan's declaration of war on the United States will be answered with a unanimous vote of both Senate and House for a declaration of war.

The declaration of Sen. Wheeler (D) Mont., leader of the non-interventionists, that we should now "lick the hell" out of Japan was echoed by both vigorous supporters of the President's foreign policy and former foes.

President Roosevelt called Republican, as well as Democratic, leaders to the White House conference last night. Congressional leaders banned all thought of partisanship.

SOPHOMORE AT SCIOTO WINNER IN PEACE TALK

Bertha Painter, 14, Best In County Contest At Methodist Church

SILVER MEDAL AWARDED

Other Students Take Part In Excellent Program Sunday Evening

Bertha Painter, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Painter of Commercial Point, is winner of the county Prince of Peace Declaration contest. Besides winning the silver medal award, Miss Painter will represent the county in the district contest. The Prince of Peace contests are sponsored annually by the Ohio Council of Churches.

Miss Painter is a sophomore at Scioto Township school. Her subject was "We Are Not Alone" and its general theme called for a federation of nations as a means to future peace.

Receiving second place in the contest was Junior Stuckey of Morris Chapel. His theme was "World Peace."

Other contestants were Miss Ermie R. Bowers of Ashville who talked on "Peace in Flames," Eugene Hall of Emmett's Chapel, whose subject was "Razors and Babies" and Miss June Miller, Salem Church, who also used the subject "Razors and Babies."

General theme of all of the orations concerned a federation of nations to bring about world peace.

The program, held at First Methodist Church beginning at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, was opened by the Rev. Nell Peterson, host pastor, who delivered the invocation. The Rev. R. S. Meyer of Williamsport was general chairman in charge of the program.

Judges were Wendell Boer and William D. Radcliff of Williamsport and the Rev. Robert T. Kelsey of Circleville. Judging was conducted on the basis of general effect, fluency and memory, voice and articulation and platform presence.

Officials in charge said a sizable audience attended the program.

Gladys Bowshier's Essay Wins Prize

Miss Gladys Bowshier of Scioto Township, Monday, was announced winner of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's essay contest on "Why Does America Need a Food for Defense Program?"

Results of the contest were announced by Mrs. Fannie Brooks, farm field woman in charge of the Food for Defense Program. Miss Bowshier will receive a prize of $3 and her essay will be entered in the state contest. First prize in the state contest is $10 second $7.50 and third, $5. The state winner will broadcast over station WLW.

Receiving second place in the county contest was Jerry Oesterle of New Holland and third Miss Margaret Cross, Wayne Township, a student at Circleville school. Prizes of $2 and $1 were given to the second and third place winners respectively.

The prizes were made through the Farm Defense Program of the AAA.

Elks Conduct Memorial Service; 100 At Rites

Circleville Elks paid tribute to their departed brothers in an impressive service conducted Sunday afternoon in the Elks Home, North Court Street.

More than 100 persons were present to hear officers of the lodge conduct the ritualistic service, to hear the Elks Chorus, directed by Carl Leist, sing several numbers, to hear Miss Anna Schleyer and Hunter Chambers in piano-organ duets, and to hear Roy H. Williams, a justice of the Ohio Supreme Court deliver the Memorial Day address.

Every Elks Lodge in the United States observes the first Sunday in December for its Lodge of Sorority. Seven members of the Circleville Lodge died in the last year, namely John F. Carle, Charles Bell, Perry Shaeffer, Denny Pickens, Ralph K. Hinrod, Will J. Graham and Rudolph Gessley. Since the lodge's organization in 1888, 132 Elks have died.

The ritualistic service was in charge of Exalted Ruler Tom A. Renick.

With only the bituminous coal industry's representative dissenting, the soft coal arbitration board ordered the captive mine operators to sign a union shop agreement with the United Mine Workers of America headed by the captive mines operated by steel producers for their own consumption.

Both Lewis and Dr. John R. Steelman, chairman of the board and the public's representative on the tribunal, cast their vote in favor of the union shop. Dissenting was Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel Corporation and representative of the industry as a whole.

Steelman said that "contracts providing for a union shop have a recognized status in American industrial practice and in American law." Lewis observed that the award "justified the position" of the miners. Fairless, the dissenter, said the majority opinion "imposes an unregulated labor monopoly upon the entire bituminous coal industry."

LISTON, BEERS TO HEAD FARM BUREAU DRIVE

Lawrence Liston of Circleville Township and S. E. Beers of Scioto Township will head the Pickaway County Farm Bureau membership drive, to open January 19.

Liston and Beers were appointed to lead the campaign when directors of the Farm Bureau met Saturday night and made plans for their annual roll call.

During the week beginning January 19, workers appointed in each township will make special efforts to secure membership in the organization.

All those members who pay their dues before January 19 will receive a free ticket to the annual Farm Bureau banquet, tentatively set for January 31.

LIBRARY BOARD TO SEE COUNTY OFFICIALS AGAIN

In an effort to keep the county library book truck still in operation, members of Circleville's library board will make a second trip Monday to the county commissioners, Tom A. Renick, chairman of the library board of trustees, announced after a meeting of the library board Saturday.

Mr. Renick said the board decided to again confer with the commissioners after it has discussed the problem of the book truck's operation with school officials.

Commissioners last week turned down library officials requests for financial aid, but the library board may have a new proposition to offer when it goes before the county officials Monday. Mr. Renick did not say what that proposition would be.

CANAL DISTRICT READY TO FIGHT

Complete Blackout Staged;
All Japanese Nabbed
As War Begins

BALBOA, C. Z., Dec. 8—Dawn today brought an end to the first complete blackout of the Canal Zone since the war began and revealed this mighty bastion of American defense completely prepared for the worst that Japan and her allies have to offer.

Twenty-four hour aerial patrols were inaugurated by the high command as one additional measure to ensure the canal's safety. The 250 Japanese residing in Panama and Colon were taken swiftly into custody. To facilitate the round-up, the lights of these cities blazed fiercely while the zone itself was in utter darkness.

Naval and coastal frontier patrols were augmented throughout tonight and by this morning all was in readiness, with the canal blanketed completely in a protection of steel.

The moment news was received of Japan's air attack on America's far Pacific garrisons, long-perfected mobilization measures were put in motion. Anti-aircraft guns and coastal defenses at both ends of the canal were manned and every item in the vast armament link protecting the canal was put on a full war basis.

All army and navy officers and men were ordered to duty and to battle stations.

BRICKER CALLS ON ALL OHIOANS TO HELP NATION

"Put War-Worshippers In Proper Place," Says State Executive

FORT HAYES ON ALERT

Manufacturers Being Urged To Safeguard Plants From Saboteurs

COLUMBUS, Dec. 8—As Japanese bombs spread death and destruction over the Pacific, Gov. John W. Bricker today called on every Ohioan to help "put these insolent war-worshipping attackers in their proper places."

"There is no doubt of an ultimate and complete victory" for the United States, Bricker said as he geared the machinery of the state government to meet any wartime demand, but "every citizen must do his full duty, work increasingly to sustain our boys on land and sea."

The governor received news of Japan's attack on the Pacific outposts in University Hospital where he is confined with a torn tendon in his right foot.

From Fort Hayes, headquarters of the Army Fifth Corps area, went request to all manufacturers, industrialists, railroads and power plants to put into effect immediately all protective measures necessary to prevent sabotage.

To Watch Visitors

Exact nature of the measures was not made public, but they were certain to include strengthening of guards and more rigid restrictions on visitors at such vital points as Wright and Patterson army air fields near Dayton, aircraft plants in Cincinnati and Columbus, ordnance plants at Ravenna, Canton and Sandusky, and the ordnance proving ground at Camp Perry.

Government locks and dams in the Ohio River and its tributaries have been carefully guarded against saboteurs for months.

Although far removed from the present theater of war, many of the workshops necessary to victory are within Ohio's borders. One of these is the $14,000,000 Curtis-Wright warplane plant dedicated at Port Columbus only last Thursday. The "world's best dive bombers" will begin rolling off the production line there next month, and they will go to the U. S. Navy which is bearing the brunt of the warfare in the Pacific.

Emergency protective steps against sabotage there were invoked immediately on the declaration of hostilities, J. A. Williams, plant manager, announced. He said that such further steps as may be necessary will be taken as they are called for.

High steel mesh fences topped with barbed wire surround the plant and there is a 24-hour patrol inside and outside the buildings. Soon blackout curtains will be installed.

State Prepared

As for the state government, Governor Bricker said it has long been preparing "in every way for any crisis, including this in the Far East."

"Every department," he assured, "will be ready in every way to merge its efforts with the other states into the national war program. Ohio's place in this crisis will be a proud one, as it has been throughout our nation's history."

An immediate result of the state of war was a request by the Crosley Corporation in Cincinnati to the Civil Aeronautics Authority to declare Mason, O., in Warren County, a restricted area for air traffic.

Mason is the site of two of the powerful Crosley transmitters, the 500,000-watt experimental station of WLW and the 75,000-watt WLWO international short wave outlet. James D. Shouse, vice president in charge of broadcasting, announced that the armed guard patrolling the grounds of the transmitters has been quadrupled and the stations placed in 24-hour service.

JAP ATTACKERS FORCED TO QUIT MALAYAN AREA

Hawaii, the Philippines, Wake Island and Guam.

From Manila came belated news of Japanese air attacks on various United States Army outposts and apparently definite disclosure that the Philippine capital itself has not yet been attacked.

Russians On Move

With the Russo-German war almost forgotten in the mounting tide of tension and excitement over the new conflict, the Russian high command held to its claims that the Nazis are retreating everywhere and announced that the vital Serpukov-Tula road has now been cleared of the enemy.

Singapore was bombed as Honolulu counted a death toll of at least 350 troops and civilians in the initial, savage and warningless air attack carried out on Pearl Harbor and the Hawaiian capital yesterday which plunged the United States into war.

Japan Declares U. S. And Great Britain Unable To Comprehend Intentions island of Mindanao in the Philippines, Wake Island and Guam.

The emperor has convened a two-day session of the Diet for December 15-16 to obtain approval of emergency war measures.

To this the Army section added:

"Japanese troops started an attack on Hong Kong at dawn."

A special bulletin dealing with other operations said:

"Warships succeeded in launching a surprise attack on the United States fleet, including aircraft carriers, in the Hawaiian area. In Chinese waters, the United States gunboat Wake was captured and made phone calls, between times dictating to Miss Grace Tully, his personal secretary.

Before the communiques were issued, the Japanese government broadcast an official proclamation by the emperor declaring war on the grounds that Britain and America failed to comprehend Japan's "true intentions."

Immediately afterward, the emperor granted an imperial audience to Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo, who then called his war cabinet into emergency session. Navy Minister Shimada reported on the progress of hostilities with British and American forces thus far.

More Measures Planned

The cabinet, it was announced, decided on "further measures" to supplement initial Japanese attacks on Hawaii and elsewhere and measures against the British in the South China Sea.

The emperor's proclamation said:

We, by grace of Heaven, emperor of Japan and seated on the throne of a line unbroken for ages eternal . . . do hereby declare war on the United States of America and the British Empire.

The men and officers of our Army and Navy shall do their utmost in prosecuting the war . . . the entire nation shall mobilize its total strength so that nothing may miscarry . . .

"It has been truly unavoidable and far from our wishes that our empire has now been brought to crossed swords with America and Britain. More than four years have elapsed since China, failing to comprehend the true intentions of our empire and recklessly causing trouble, disturbed the peace of East Asia and compelled our empire to take up arms."

Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early, from his Washington home, gave the world its first shocking news that the Japanese had cast an all-out die with Adolf Hitler's Nazi hordes at 2:25 p. m.

Forty minutes later, Early faced a hastily assembled press corps in his office in the executive office wing of the White House to announce that the President had ordered the U. S. Army and Navy into action under "previously prepared orders."

Minute by minute almost thereafter, Early issued further bulletins telling of the Japanese attack.

In the oval room study, Mr. Roosevelt conferred with Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of the Navy Knox.

Then came word that an extraordinary session of the cabinet was to be convened at 8:30 p. m. with Republican and Democratic leaders of Congress joining in half an hour later.

The big iron gates of the White House swung completely closed. Only those with picture identification passes could enter. Secret service operatives swarmed out to apprehend Japanese newspaper correspondents and deprive them of their credentials.

Press Room Mad House

The press room, heretofore considered spacious despite its wealth of desks and phone booths, was a mad house. The broadcasting systems flung in their microphones, and radio commentators broadcast against the dictation of reporters and the rattle of typewriters.

Outside, on historic Pennsylvania Avenue, a crowd formed.

Buckeyes Ready For Court Race

Single Sophomore Makes Way Into Ohio State Quintet; Training Team Booked

COLUMBUS, Dec. 8—One sophomore, Bob Shaw, 198 pound football end from Fremont, will be included in Ohio State's opening basketball lineup Wednesday night when the Bucks open their season against the Great Lakes Naval Training Station quintet.

With Shaw's development for the middle assignment, Jack McLain, versatile senior from Columbus moves to guard where he will pair off with Captain Jack Graf, leaving the high scoring Dick Fisher and Fred Miller, to occupy the forward picket lines. Fisher was the Bucks high point maker in the Big Ten last season with 141 points which gave him third place in the Conference race behind

War Overshadows Any News That Might Develop From Conference

By Graham Hovey

CHICAGO, Dec. 8—Facing far graver problems than the usual buying and trading of players because of international events of the last 24 hours, officials of the Major League baseball clubs converged on Chicago today for their annual meeting.

Speculation on how American entry into World War No. 2 might affect the future of the national pastime, and particularly the 1942 season, completely overshadowed the usual shop-talk and gossip in gatherings of early arrivals last night.

Whether discussion of the possible repercussions of the war on baseball would be brought up at the formal sessions was problematical, because of the suddenness of the actual outbreak of hostilities and the certainty that no definite word regarding the 1942 baseball season would be forthcoming immediately from Washington, most of the early arrivals believed it unlikely that the discussions of the war's effect on the game would go beyond the informal stage, however.

Club officials agreed generally, however, that the international situation might slow up the trading and bring to a standstill all negotiations involving young players likely to be called into service.

So far as the formal meeting was concerned, routine business was expected to take up most of the time, with fireworks possible over a resolution anticipated on the night game situation.

More Night Games

Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, was expected to offer the resolution, which would permit teams to play 14 night games at home, rather than seven as at present. Strong opposition to the proposal was expected from the New York, Boston, Chicago and Brooklyn clubs of the National League and New York, Chicago, Boston and Cleveland of the American League.

Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox was still looking for an outfielder and seemed likely to wind up with Chet Laabs of the St. Louis Browns or Doc Cramer of Washington. The Cubs were still interested in Johnny Mize, the St. Louis Cardinal first baseman, and hoped to peddle Pitcher Bill Lee.

The Dodgers and Giants were reported to be continuing negotiations involving Catchers Harry Danning and Babe Phelps; Pitchers Cliff Melton and Luke Hamlin and Infielder Harry Lavagetto. Brooklyn also was interested in Arky Vaughan of the Pirates, and the report persisted that Dolph Camilli, the Dodger first baseman, might go on the block.

TIGER QUINTET GOES TO LONDON AND GROVE CITY

Circleville High Tigers, defeated in their cage games with Lancaster and Greenfield, will try their luck on foreign courts next week end, traveling to London Friday night and to Grove City Saturday night.

Captain Johnny Woods, first string forward, is limping as the result of an ankle twist suffered in the McClain game. He is expected to be ready for the London invasion, however.

Games on the county schedule this week include Derby at Deer Creek, Perry at Walnut, Jackson at New Holland, Washington at Pickaway and Monroe at Salt Creek.

Still at Mizzou

DON Faurot, University of Missouri football coach, whose team captured the Big Six championship and a bid to the Sugar Bowl, has rejected an offer to take the gridiron post at the University of Illinois vacated by Bob Zuppke. Instead, Faurot signed a new one-year contract at Missouri, which increased his salary from $7,500 to $10,000.

GREEN BAY AND CHICAGO TANGLE FOR AREA TITLE

By International News Service

A play off for western honors in the National Football League was the aim today of the Chicago Bears and Green Bay Packers.

As the curtain dropped on the regular schedule, the Bears moved into a tie with Green Bay with a rousing rally that downed their fellow townsmen, the Chicago Cardinals, 34 to 24.

Green Bay and the Bears will meet next Sunday to determine which will carry the western banner in the championship battle against the New York Giants, eastern champions.

In other games yesterday, Brooklyn clinched second place in the eastern division with a 21 to 7 victory over the Giants.

Pug Manders led the Dodge pack just as Wes McAfee, who tied the league scoring mark of 12 touchdowns a season, predominated the Windy City clash.

Washington's passing attack brought the Redskins a 20 to 14 victory over Philadelphia in the only other game.

— C. A. C. TANGLES WITH GOSNELLS THURSDAY NIGHT

Circleville Athletic Club, victor over two strong foes in the only games played to date, takes on another combination Thursday evening when the Gosnell Funeral Home team of Columbus invades the local ballfield.

The Athletic Club won from Bliss College and Newark Fiberglas in well played games and the quintet has shown improvement in the last week.

Among Gosnell athletes are Hutchinson, Huston, Whalen, Whetstone, Forrest, Donalds, Cree, Meyer and Cassidy. Tom Maloney is manager of the squad. The preliminary will be between Blue Ribbon Dairy and Canal Winchester.

Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox was still looking for an outfielder and seemed likely to wind up with Chet Laabs of the St. Louis Browns or Doc Cramer of Washington. The Cubs were still interested in Johnny Mize, the St. Louis Cardinal first baseman, and hoped to peddle Pitcher Bill Lee.

GIBSONVILLE WINS FROM ROCKBRIDGE FIVE, 32-14

Gibsonville cagers, coached by Byron Eby, remained unbeaten Saturday night when they played host to Rockbridge, traditional rival. The score was 32-14, and the Gibsonville scoring was evenly divided, each member of the starting quintet getting some points.

The Eby-coached crew is scheduled to meet Murray City this week.

Duke Favored To Win; Other Games Toss-ups

By Jack Mahon

NEW YORK, Dec. 8—The curtain has come down on the football season after what might be termed a delayed time bomb explosion of Texas football power and fans today sought to determine comparative strength of bowl rivals on New Year's Day.

In the Rose Bowl, Duke will meet Oregon State, in the Sugar Bowl Fordham is to meet Missouri, in the Cotton Bowl Texas A. & M. will tangle with Alabama while in the Orange Bowl the University of Georgia is to face Texas Christians.

It is hard to see just how anyone but Duke can be favored in the Rose Bowl game. Texas University, which has been up and down this year, after a great start, finished the season with the most devastating display of power turned loose in the southwest this year in routing the University of Oregon club 71-7.

Oregon, remember, had beaten the strong Santa Clara club and Washington and had forced Oregon State to come from behind to squeeze out a 12-7 win. Texas A. & M. made it a banner day for them as favorite in the Rose Bowl.

REPORTING IN

REMEMBER the famous story of Edward Everett Hale of the "Man Without a Country" and the grief it caused him all his life? Many Americans must have thought of it as they read a news story the other day of the Soldier Without a Discharge.

He walked into an army headquarters at Fort McPherson, in Atlanta, and said he wanted to "report in", as men do after army leave. That closed an incident and an era. The notation showed that he had left camp on a ten-day leave May 19, 1919. The interval was a little matter of 22 and a half years.

The absentee explained that he had gone home, suffered an emotional shock and overstayed his time until he was afraid to go back. After the war he reported at the fort, but he had no uniform and the record was lost and nobody would believe his story. He worried about it. Nine years ago he tried again to make his record straight, but was not taken seriously. He had married, established a business and succeeded in life, except for this one thing.

So now he "reports in" and insists on it. He wants a clear record and an honorable discharge. And he wants to serve his country now as a mechanic to make up for his former lapse.

Doesn't that give every good American a glow around the heart?

GOVERNMENTAL ERRORS

CONGRESS finds it a formidable task to frame the price control and labor legislation now before it for action. It is "hard to please all the people," the lawmakers say.

If that is what troubles them, a change of attitude should make their job a great deal easier. For pleasing all the people is not the first responsibility of Congress. That body of men and women has the duty, according to the federal Constitution, to enact laws for the nation as a whole, not for partisan constituents or pressure groups.

Not only does Congress sometimes appear to misunderstand its duties in such ways, but the citizens and lobbies that demand special favors are misunderstanding their rights and handicapping the proper functioning of the national government.

It is one of the grave concerns of the present time that timidity, emotion and confusion in Congress and selfishness and shortsightedness outside are allowed to play havoc with the efficient operation of

PEW AND WEIR HELP GOP

WASHINGTON — The bank account of the Republican National Committee continues to be as bare as Mother Hubbard's cupboard, but the money situation appears to be looking up for the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee. This is the organization which provides funds for GOP candidates running for election to the House of Representatives.

Inside word is that the boys who have quietly undertaken to fatten the Campaign Committee's lean war chest are Pennsylvania oil millionaire Joe Pew and Pennsylvania steel millionaire Ernest Weir.

To National Chairman Joe Martin and Representative J. W. Ditter of Pennsylvania, head of the Campaign Committee, this is the best kind of good news, for Pew and Weir have been very generous contributors in the past. After the 1936 debacle, Pew, almost single-handed, took the National Committee out of the red. Also he has been the chief financial mainstay of the Pennsylvania GOP in recent years. Weir has been a good second in donations.

But the jubilation of Martin and Ditter is not general in inner Republican circles. Other GOP chiefs are privately asking what the Pew-Weir development means regarding the party's stand on the international issue in next year's crucial state and congressional elections.

This question will overshadow all others. It will be the decisive battleground of the campaign. The Democrats will wage their fight squarely on the Roosevelt defense and foreign policy record. But the Republicans are hotly at odds among themselves.

Publicly the millionaires have not declared themselves. But the records of Ditter and Martin, who head the two GOP Committees, are incontrovertible.

Both have followed the America First line in voting on foreign policy measures.

What the antis are asking is whether Pew and Weir are going to put up the money to take the Republican party, under the isolationist leadership of Martin and Ditter, into the America First camp in next year's election campaign; or whether the Pew-Weir-Martin-Ditter strategy is to try to duck the foreign issue entirely and campaign on other questions.

Whatever the undercover plan, it is due for airing at the National Committee

WORLD AT A GLANCE . . . . .

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

FROM British activity in north and eastern Africa, where Benito Mussolini has been trying to build up a colonial empire, American strategical observers draw the conclusion that John Bull is concentrating upon a tremendous effort to knock Italy entirely out of the war, which naturally, if the plan succeeds, will be a resounding crack at Herr Hitler, too.

It's regarded as, perhaps a pretty promising method of tackling the whole situation.

An offensive against the Nazis, on their own ground would be, it's recognized, exceedingly dangerous at the present stage of the game. They seem, as yet, fairly solidly behind their Fuehrer, and presumably would fight for him for all they're worth just now. Among the Italians, however, there's a deal of discontent, from all accounts, with the pickle that Il Duce has involved 'em in, as allies of the Germans, whom, it's said, they hate like poison. It isn't a frame of mind calculated to make them stand their ground very well. Accordingly their forces, away over in Africa, where they can't even get adequate supplies, due to British strength in the Mediterranean, ought to be comparatively easy to lick.

Licking 'em in that particular field won't have a direct effect on the main struggle, but it may have an indirect one that'll count like everything.

It'll tend to make Italians at home sorer than ever at Benito

France, to be sure, has to be reckoned with. So does Spain.

In case Vichy France hooks up definitely with Adolf, especially to the extent of lending its fleet to him, it'll be a mean jolt for Britain and the rest of the democracies, including ours.

As for Spain, where Caudillo Franco's openly friendly to the Fuehrer, the Iberian peninsula manifestly would be a grand taking-off-place, for the Nazis, into northwestern Africa—just a plane hop of a minute or two across the western Mediterranean strait, and from there on down to much-talked-about Dakar.

Spain NOT TOO 'SAFE' In Spain, however, it isn't altogether safe betting that Franco's any more solid than Duce Mussolini is in Italy. He did, indeed, win his fight with the republicans and established his Falangist dictatorship and there actually is a Spanish Falangist cohort campaigning with the Nazis against Russia. All the same, a lot of republicans remain in Spain, ready to rebel at the first good opportunity.

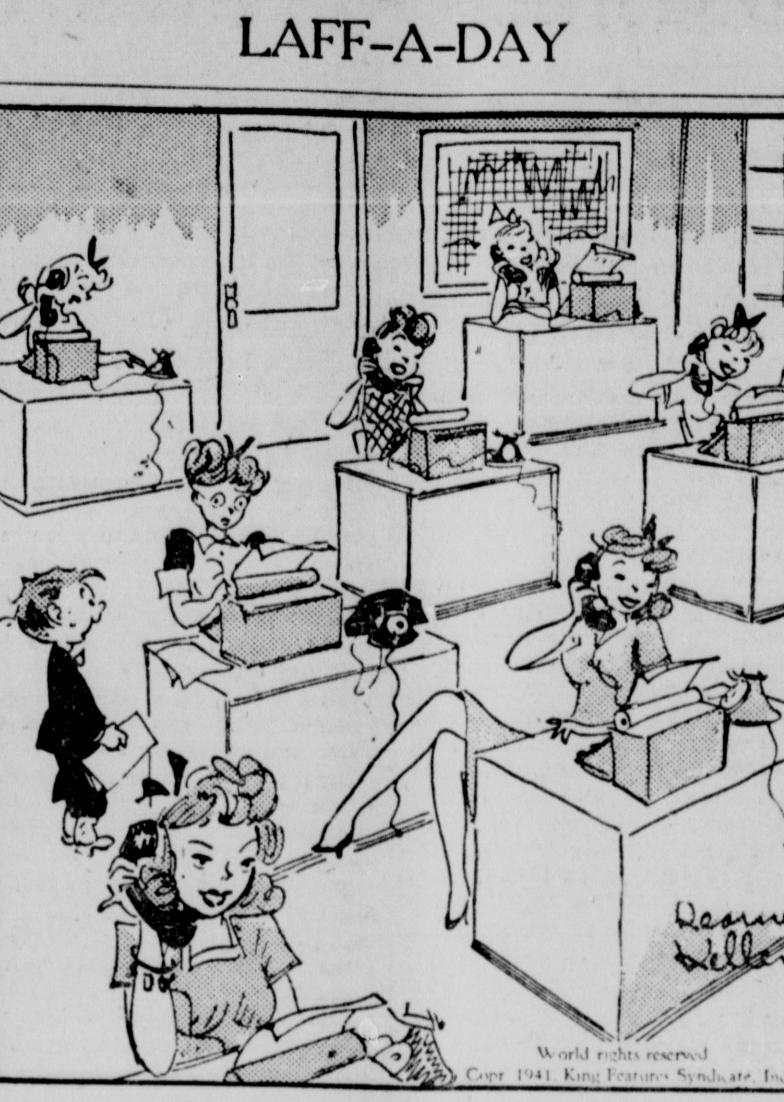

With General de Gaulle on the rampage, France possibly isn't so Nazi-tastically dependable, either.

Italy's a kind of a crux of the situation.

Let the Italian prop be knocked from under the Axis card house and guesses are made that the whole structure'd soon become pretty rickety.

Home Water Treatments Can Give Relief

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

readers who have urged me to continue the discussion, that this article is in the nature of a "by request" contribution.

Water can be used in treatment by varying its modalities—hot and cold, still and moving, and the length of time employed.

A cold stream of water played on the body forcibly from a hose has a different effect from a hot bath in the bath tub and almost endless variations of these simple modalities can be used in various diseases.

It must be remembered also that they can be used either for local affections or for general conditions. For instance, a hot pack on an infected finger is an example of local treatment, and enveloping the entire body in a wet pack overnight is an example of general treatment for the purpose of inducing sleep and overcoming fatigue and nervousness.

It is the effect of the affusion is not the same as that of a cold bath and not the same as a cold shower.

The shock caused by a broad stream of cold water is the secret of its effectiveness. In the case of the weak patient it is well to begin with warmer water and gradually reach the colder temperature.

The simplicity of the technique of the affusion idea has caused it to be neglected for more complicated and spectacular forms of treatment. It is valuable in any condition which is accompanied by fatigue, nervous exhaustion and characterized by loss of tone and resistance.

The effect of the affusion is not the same as that of a cold bath and not the same as a cold shower.

Pickaway Countian Killed Walking On CCC Highway Near Derby

RICHARD LIGHTLE STRUCK BY AUTO OF CINCINNATIAN

Motorist Exonerated By State Patrol After Fatal Accident

State Highway Patrolmen, Monday, exonerated Adolph Kuechler, 33, Cincinnati, of blame in the traffic death Sunday afternoon of Richard Lightle, 60, of Derby. The fatal accident happened on the CCC highway near Derby Corners, north of Mount Sterling, in Pickaway County.

Acting Coroner B. T. Hedges who investigated the accident returned a verdict of accidental death, declaring that a skull fracture had killed Mr. Lightle instantly.

Mr. Lightle, a widely known resident of Derby, was walking in the highway when he was struck, patrolmen said. After their preliminary investigation of the mishap they freed the Cincinnati man.

Mr. Lightle suffered a fractured skull and fractures of both legs. He was a farm laborer.

Survivors include his widow and a son, Fay Lightle of Five Points.

The funeral will be Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the E. T. Snyder Funeral Home, Mount Sterling.

Clay Hitlers And Daughter Injured

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Hitler and their daughter, Martha of Washington Township were injured Sunday at 3:30 p.m. when their automobile crashed into a concrete bridge over Toad Run on Route 56.

All three were taken to Berger Hospital in the Defenbaugh ambulance. Clay Hitler, 63, suffered multiple cuts on the face and neck. His wife, Jennie, 62, received a cut over the left eye, a fractured right wrist and a left leg fracture below the knee. His daughter, Martha, 24, was cut on the forehead and chin and suffered sprained ligaments of the ankle. She was discharged from the hospital Sunday night after treatment.

Deputy Sheriff Bryan Custer said the accident happened as the Hitlers were returning home. The daughter, Martha, was driving. Their automobile, a 1940 Ford, badly damaged around the front end, was towed into Circleville.

Custer reported another accident on the CCC highway near Mt. Sterling Sunday at 7:30 p.m. when two cars, driven by Dale Vincent, 18, Washington C. H., and C. B. Laire, Cincinnati, sideswiped on a curve two miles east of Mt. Sterling. Laire was treated for cuts and bruises by a Mt. Sterling physician.

Neither Vincent nor a companion, Jack Reno, 18, also of Washington C. H. was injured.

MAN AWAITING TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE IS DEAD

COLUMBUS, Dec. 8—Coroner E. E. Smith today probed the death of Guy O. Holcomb, 38, former auditor for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., and who was under indictment for second degree murder in connection with the slaying of his wife.

Holcomb was found dead, apparently of natural causes, in his car at the home of his mother. It was reported that he recently had complained of heart pains.

Holcomb's wife, Hazel, was shot fatally during a scuffle September 13. He contended that the pistol was discharged as he attempted to wrest it from her. He had been free on $1,500 bond since his indictment.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Gilson G. Blake is Second Secretary of the U. S. Embassy in Rome. Whenever British bombers roar over Italy, Blake runs out on the Embassy terrace, raises his arms to the skies, and shouts, "Drop down your bombs, O brothers, drop down your bombs!" . . . Foreign Commerce Weekly, a publication of the Department of Commerce, asked William LaVarre, head of the American Republics unit, for a biographical sketch of himself. Among other things he wrote: "I earned my first money trapping skunks." When the sketch appeared in print, this sentence was deleted. . . . AFL legislative representative Paul Scharenberg has a standing arrangement to get stamps for his collection from several Senatorial wastebaskets. . . . David Lu, Washington representative of the Chinese Central News Agency, has an assistant who is a Harvard Ph. D.

ROLLING TO RUSSIA

Some of the delays in sending goods to Russia have been nothing short of criminal, considering the manner in which war with Japan depends upon Russian resistance. The worst delays came last summer when the White House marked time for nearly three months before sending the Harriman Mission to Moscow.

But even after the Harriman Mission returned in October there were more delays, due to two things: 1, lack of ships; 2, the fact that the Russians did not know exactly the order in which they wanted material shipped.

As of the last two weeks, however, it can be revealed that delays are over. War material to Russia is really rolling. Vessels are leaving with 15 to 20 bombers on a ship.

When in Moscow, Harriman and Beaverbrook signed what since has been called the "Moscow Agreement," listing the general categories of goods Russia needs. Highest on the list are airplanes, artillery, tanks, trucks, and machine tools. Food also is on the list, due to the fact that most of the Russian granary was destroyed. However, food is so low on the list that not much has been sent as yet.

One worry about shipments to Russia has been port facilities. It was feared that U. S. vessels would be held up for weeks in unloading. In Suez, for instance, the first U. S. ships arriving there were not unloaded for five weeks.

However, U. S. ship captains arriving from Archangel report that the Russians are fast and efficient, and unload with as much speed as the average port in the United States.

JOSEPHUS DANIELS

The brass hats never liked Josephus Daniels when he was Secretary of the Navy; likewise the career diplomats never liked him.

The funeral will be Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Hitler-Ludwig Chapel, the Rev. O. F. Gibbs officiating. Burial will be in the adjoining cemetery by Crites and Van Cleve. The body will be at the Majors home where friends may call after 7:30 p.m. Monday.

when he was Ambassador to Mexico. In the Navy, he believed in wiping out class lines between offices and men; in Mexico he believed in cultivating human relationships.

When Josephus first went to Mexico he was stoned because they remembered him as Secretary of the Navy when Tampico was fired on in 1917. But when he left Mexico, children pointed to him in the streets as "the American Ambassador, a great and good man." Daniels believed in human friendships rather than writing notes, and he had a lot to do with the change which gradually has come over relations with our southern neighbor.

Daniels left Mexico only because of his wife. He did not want to leave, but she had been ill a long time and the high altitude increased her suffering. She, however, never complained, never asked him to return.

Note:—First job offered Josephus after his resignation was as editor of the Ocracoke Island (N. C.) Beacon. Himself a publisher, Daniels replied: "I hope from time to time to act as contributing editor, but you will have to give me a little time to brush up on my newspaper stories. I have been out of practice, but will get the hang of it before long."

PONTIUS YOUTH BEGINS TRAINING AT GREAT LAKES

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Dec. 8—Ronald Victor Pontius, 20, of Circleville RFD 1, began his career in the United States Navy December 5 when he reported for duty at the U. S. Naval Training Station here.

At the close of a six-week period of basic seamanship training, Pontius will be given a 10-day furlough. He then will report back to the station for assignment to active duty at sea or to one of the many navy technical schools.

All of his time will be occupied by drill and study, however, as the new recruit will have an opportunity to participate in free entertainment and recreation provided by the Navy. This includes free movies Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and roller skating Tuesdays and Thursdays. The skating is co-educational, with the Chaplains and Station Hostesses inviting girls from nearby communities to attend.

The station, located on the shore of Lake Michigan about 40 miles north of Chicago, receives recruits from the entire Ninth Naval District, an expanse of territory extending from Ohio to the Dakotas and from Missouri to the Canadian border, and is the largest naval district in the country.

SEA CONFLICT HINTED

U. S. Ships Clashing With Tokyo's Battle Fleet,
Honolulu Informed

By International News Service
The full-scale war of east against west, launched by Japan with her unprovoked attack on Pearl Harbor and Honolulu roared into fury in the air, on land and in the sea today.

Japan first appeared to have won another early round with successful landing of an expeditionary force on the Malay peninsula north of Singapore.

But latest advices from the jungle battlefield said that the naval units which landed the party had turned tail and fled, leaving the "few troops" still on hand at the mercy of Anzac machine-guns.

And a few minutes later came a BBC report that Japanese troops attempting an invasion of North Borneo, a British protectorate in the Dutch East Indies, had been hurled back into the sea by British forces.

From Honolulu came the first fragmentary advices of a heavy sea combat which apparently started soon after the fighting United States Navy steamed out of bombed Pearl Harbor to meet the Japanese. What seemed to be heavy cannonading was heard at sea off Barber's Point and four enemy ships were reported sighted.

While the world awaited a joint American and British declaration of war against Japan, Emperor Hirohito issued his first war bulletin, announcing air attacks on Hong Kong—where a full-scale offensive was reported under way

FEAR EXPRESSED BY RELATIVES OF YOUTHS IN EAST

Although not so many Circleville and Pickaway County youths are known to be on duty in the United States' Pacific danger zones, members of families of those known to be in Hawaii and the Philippines are expressing concern over their safety. No word has been received by any local relatives from young men in the service in these areas.

Stanley Lewis Jr., son of former County Agent and Mrs. H. S. Lewis, is known to be among soldiers at Pearl Harbor. The Lewises live now in Oklahoma.

Tommy Carrel, a Circleville youth, wrote to Circleville two weeks ago that he was stationed at Schofield Barracks in Hawaii.

Landing On Malay Peninsula, Aerial Raids On Islands Are Discussed

TOKYO, Dec. 8.—(By official Japanese Wireless)—The Imperial high command today announced a full-scale offensive against Hong Kong, successful landing operations on the Malay Peninsula, an air raid on Singapore and aerial attacks on the Philippines, Hawaii, Wake Island and Guam.

The Hong Kong attack was preceded by two air attacks, the first of which started at 8 a. m. local time. The Japanese fleet returned to its military base without loss, it was said, and turned back for the second raid shortly after.

In the first official communiqué issued since Emperor Hirohito announced a declaration of war against the United States and Great Britain, the high command gave few details of the operations beyond asserting that success was achieved in each undertaking.

In Three Divisions

The communiqué was divided into three sections.

Over Emperor Hirohito's signature, the headquarters announced:

"In close cooperation with naval units, Japanese forces succeeded in carrying out landing operations on the Malay Peninsula."

The navy section announced:

Reported; Heavy German Counter-Raid Halted

KUBYSHEV, U. S. S. R., Dec. 8.—Soviet troops have driven German forces from the important Serpukov-Tula highway south of Moscow and the vital thoroughfare is now entirely controlled by Russians, the Soviet radio said today.

The enemy was reported retreating to the southwest, with Soviet forces continuing their advance.

Heavy German counter-attacks on the Kalinin Front again were repulsed but severe fighting is still in progress, it was said.

New Russian advances on the southern sector of the Moscow defense zone were claimed by the Russian high command, which also reported that fierce German assaults on other sectors had been repulsed.

A Soviet communiqué said:

"Fighting continued on the entire front. On several sectors of the Moscow Front our troops repelled fierce attacks and advanced, inflicting heavy losses on the man-power and equipment of the enemy."

"Thirty-one German planes were brought down on Saturday while the Soviet air force lost seven machines. Five German planes were brought down near Moscow Sunday."

"On the Stalingrad Front (south of Moscow) during the last few days formation of the Soviet guard captured 20 villages, killing 1,000 officers and men."

CAPITOL BUILDING PUT UNDER MILITARY GUARD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 — The Capitol building was placed under a military guard today for the first time since World War days as preparations were made for President Roosevelt's address to a joint session of Congress.

Marine sentries in full war dress paced back and forth in front of all doors to the capitol. They examined all seeking entrance. Full credentials were required.

Capitol police banned the usual automobile parking on the grounds. Persons without credentials could come only to within two blocks of the capitol.

BRIGGS YOUTH FOUND DEAD IN EASTERN RIVER

New Holland Native In Service Under Tunney Missing 10 Days

Navy Department authorities at Norfolk, Va., were conducting an investigation Monday into the mysterious death of Eugene (Gene) Briggs, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Briggs of New Holland. The body of young Briggs, a former widely known athlete, was found Saturday at 6:30 p. m. in the Elizabeth River which goes through naval grounds at Portsmouth, Va., where the Naval Hospital is located.

Briggs, a nephew of Harry and Bryce Briggs of Circleville, had been missing since November 26.

A graduate of New Holland High School in the class of 1933, he entered Ohio State University and was graduated in physical education in 1937. He coached for two years at Ansonia, Darke County, and for two years at Jeffersonville, Fayette County. He was not teaching this year, expecting to be called for the draft. However, he enlisted in the Naval Reserve and was called to Norfolk November 13. He received a rank as chief boatman's mate under Gene Tunney, former world's heavyweight champion.

Young Briggs was ill when he arrived at Norfolk and was sent to the Portsmouth hospital for treatment. He had access to the barracks and the hospital, being permitted to go back and forth.

No information concerning the possible cause of death was being released by the Naval Department pending its investigation.

Young Briggs is survived by his parents and a sister, Charlene, wife of William Mace of Washington C. H.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

REPORTS HEARD OF MUSTARD GAS USED BY JAPS

SINGAPORE, Dec. 8 — An official British communiqué said today it was reported unofficially but not confirmed that Japanese flyers had dropped mustard gas bombs.

(Editor's Note: Several recent reports from Chungking have indicated alleged Japanese use of mustard gas against Chinese troops.)

The British communiqué added: "Large concentrations of enemy ships off Kemasin were attacked."

"A Hudson bomber secured a direct hit on a leading ship, which was left on fire."

"In addition to Singapore, the enemy bombed Tanjogn, Datok and the southern corner of Johore."

"It was unofficially reported and not confirmed that the enemy dropped mustard gas bombs."

P. R. HOSLER, 58, DIES FOLLOWING 7-WEEK ILLNESS

Pressley R. Hosler, 58, a watchmaker for 35 years and operator of a jewelry store in Circleville for more than 10 years, died Monday at 2:10 a. m. at his home, 228 North Court Street. Mr. Hosler was stricken seven weeks ago by a subdural hemorrhage. He spent several weeks in a private hospital in Columbus, but was returned home last Wednesday.

His only survivor is his widow, Mrs. Rose Palm Hosler, whom he married October 25, 1916.

He was born in Tarlton December 23, 1882, a son of Samuel E. and Emma Hitt Hosler.

Mr. Hosler was a member of the Circleville Lodge of Elks.

The funeral will be Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the home, the Rev. A. N. Gruener officiating with burial in the family lot in Forest Cemetery by M. S. Rinehart.

The body will be at the home after 6 p. m. Monday where friends may call.

In Danger Area

ABOVE is Douglas MacArthur, commander of American forces in the Philippines, one of the hottest danger spots in the war between the Japanese and the United States.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8—The White House today announced that the casualty list at the island of Oahu, Hawaii, "in all probability will amount to about 3,000," nearly half of which are fatalities.

20 years, and was reelected just in time to be in the Congress that was to be called on for another ballot on the question of peace or war.

The Senate voted unanimously, 82 votes sounding for war. The House ballot was 388 against one.

The vote came only a short time after President Roosevelt appeared personally to call for war against Japan, the chief executive attacking the Tokyo government's attack even while peace negotiations were being carried on.

Quarrels Forgotten With Wheeler Calling "Lick Hell Out Of Japs"

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 — A wave of unity swept over Congress today as past quarrels over foreign policy were forgotten and both Democrats and Republicans pledged undying support in resisting Japan's war on America.

The labels of "interventionist" and "non-interventionist," which have been freely applied in bitter debate for two years, were brushed aside.

Predictions were freely made that Japan's declaration of war on the United States will be answered with a unanimous vote of both Senate and House for a declaration of war.

The declaration of Sen. Wheeler (D) Mont., leader of the non-interventionists, that we should "lick the hell" out of Japan was echoed by both vigorous supporters of the President's foreign policy and former foes.

President Roosevelt called Republicans, as well as Democratic leaders to the White House conference last night. Congressional leaders banned all thought of partisanship.

"The Republicans will go along on what is done, in my opinion," said Republican Senate Leader McNary.

"We can think only of our country now," said Rep. Martin, Republican house leader and Republican national chairman.

Sens. Taft (R) Ohio and Gillette (D) Iowa, who have opposed New Deal policies, declared that Japan must be beaten.

"This is no time to look backward and talk what might have been, because we have been ruthlessly attacked," Gillette said. "We must marshal all forces, take the initiative and punish Japan

SOPHOMORE AT SCIOTO WINNER IN PEACE TALK

Bertha Painter, 14, Best In County Contest At Methodist Church

SILVER MEDAL AWARDED

Other Students Take Part In Excellent Program Sunday Evening

Bertha Painter, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Painter of Commercial Point, is winner of the county Prince of Peace Declamation contest. Besides winning the silver medal award, Miss Painter will represent the county in the district contest. The Prince of Peace contests are sponsored annually by the Ohio Council of Churches.

Miss Painter is a sophomore at Scioto Township school. Her subject was "We Are Not Alone" and its general theme called for a federation of nations as a means to future peace.

Receiving second place in the contest was Junior Stuckey of Morris Chapel. His theme was "World Peace."

Other contestants were Miss Erma R. Bowers of Ashville who talked on "Peace in Flames," Eugene Hall of Emmett's Chapel, whose subject was "Razors and Babies" and Miss June Miller, Salem Church, who also used the subject "Razors and Babies."

General theme of all of the orations concerned a federation of nations to bring about world peace. The program, held at First Methodist Church beginning at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, was opened by the Rev. Nell Peterson, host pastor, who delivered the invocation. The Rev. R. S. Meyer of Williamsport was general chairman in charge of the program.

Judges were Wendell Boer and William D. Radcliff of Williamsport and the Rev. Robert T. Kelsey of Circleville. Judging was conducted on the basis of general effect, fluency and memory, voice and articulation and platform presence.

Officials in charge said a sizable audience attended the program.

Gladys Bowshier's Essay Wins Prize

Miss Gladys Bowshier of Scioto Township, Monday, was announced winner of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's essay contest on "Why Does America Need a Food for Defense Program?"

Results of the contest were announced by Mrs. Fannie Brooks, farm field woman in charge of the Food for Defense Program. Miss Bowshier will receive a prize of $3 and her essay will be entered in the state contest. First prize in the state contest is $10 second $7.50 and third $5. The state winner will broadcast over station WLW.

Receiving second place in the county contest was Jerry Oesterle of New Holland and third Miss Margaret Cross, Wayne Township, a student at Circleville school. Prizes of $2 and $1 were given to the second and third place winners respectively.

The prizes were made through the Farm Defense Program of the AAA.

Elks Conduct Memorial Service; 100 At Rites

Circleville Elks paid tribute to their departed brothers in an impressive service conducted Sunday afternoon in the Elks Home, North Court Street.

More than 100 persons were present to hear officers of the lodge conduct the ritualistic service, to hear the Elks Chorus, directed by Carl Leist, sing several numbers, and Hunter Chambers in piano-organ duets, and to hear Roy H. Williams, a justice of the Ohio Supreme Court deliver the Memorial Day address.

Every Elks Lodge in the United States observes the first Sunday in December for its Lodge of Sorrow. Seven members of the Circleville Lodge died in the last year, namely John F. Carie, Charles Bell, Perry Shaeffer, Denny Pickens, Ralph K. Himrod, Will J. Graham and Rudolph Gessley. Since the lodge's organization in 1888, 132 Elks have died.

The ritualistic service was in charge of Exalted Ruler Tom A. Renick.

LISTON, BEERS TO HEAD FARM BUREAU DRIVE

With only the bituminous coal industry's representative dissenting, the soft coal arbitration board ordered the captive mine operators to sign a union shop agreement with the United Mine Workers of America headed by Lewis.

Both Lewis and Dr. John R. Steelman, chairman of the board and the public's representative on the tribunal, cast their vote in favor of the union shop. Dissenting was Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel Corporation and representative of the industry as a whole.

Steelman said that "contracts providing for a union shop have a recognized status in American industrial practice and in American law." Lewis observed that the award "justified the position" of the miners. Fairless, the dissenter, said the majority opinion "imposes an unregulated labor monopoly upon the entire bituminous coal industry."

LIBRARY BOARD TO SEE COUNTY OFFICIALS AGAIN

In an effort to keep the county library book truck still in operation, members of Circleville's library board will make a second trip Monday to the county commissioners, Tom A. Renick, chairman of the library board of trustees, announced after a meeting of the library board Saturday.

Mr. Renick said the board decided to again confer with the commissioners after it has discussed the problem of the book truck's operation with school officials.

Commissioners last week turned down library officials' requests for financial aid, but the library board may have a new proposition to offer when it goes before the county officials Monday. Mr. Renick did not say what that proposition would be.

MERCURY FALLS

A cold wave which sent local temperature to their lowest mark of the season struck the Circleville community Sunday. Official low temperature Monday was 19, two degrees under those of November 25. Rain or snow is expected Monday or Tuesday.

CANAL DISTRICT READY TO FIGHT

Complete Blackout Staged; All Japanese Nabbed As War Begins

BALBOA, C. Z., Dec. 8—Dawn today brought an end to the first complete blackout of the Canal Zone since the war began and revealed this mighty bastion of American defense completely prepared for the worst that Japan and her allies have to offer.

Twenty-four hour aerial patrols

were inaugurated by the high command as one additional measure to ensure the canal's safety. The 250 Japanese residing in Panama and Colon were taken swiftly into custody. To facilitate the round-up, the lights of these cities blazed fiercely while the zone itself was in utter darkness.

Naval and coastal frontier patrols were augmented throughout tonight and by this morning all was in readiness, with the canal blanketed completely in a protection of steel.

The moment news was received of Japan's air attack on America's far Pacific garrisons, long-perfected mobilization measures were put in motion. Anti-aircraft guns and coastal defenses at both ends of the canal were manned and every item in the vast armored link protecting the canal was put on a full war basis.

All army and navy officers and men were ordered to duty and to battle stations.

BRICKER CALLS ON ALL OHIOANS TO HELP NATION

"Put War-Worshippers In Proper Place," Says State Executive

FORT HAYES ON ALERT

Manufacturers Being Urged To Safeguard Plants From Saboteurs

COLUMBUS, Dec. 8—As Japanese bombs spread death and destruction over the Pacific, Gov. John W. Bricker today called on every Ohioan to help "put these insolent war-worshipping attackers in their proper places."

"There is no doubt of an ultimate and complete victory" for the United States, Bricker said as he geared the machinery of the state government to meet any wartime demand, but "every citizen must do his full duty, work increasingly to sustain our boys on land and sea."

The governor received news of Japan's attack on the Pacific outposts in University Hospital where he is confined with a torn tendon in his right foot.

From Fort Hayes, headquarters of the Army Fifth Corps area, went request to all manufacturers, industrialists, railroads and power plants to put into effect immediately all protective measures necessary to prevent sabotage.

To Watch Visitors

Exact nature of the measures was not made public, but they were certain to include strengthening of guards and more rigid restrictions on visitors at such vital points as Wright and Patterson army air fields near Dayton, aircraft plants in Cincinnati and Columbus, ordnance plants at Ravenna, Canton and Sandusky, and the ordnance proving ground at Camp Perry.

Government locks and dams in the Ohio River and its tributaries have been carefully guarded against saboteurs for months.

Although far removed from the present theater of war, many of the workshops necessary to victory are within Ohio's borders. One of these is the $14,000,000 Curtiss-Wright warplane plant dedicated at Port Columbus only last Thursday. The "world's best dive bombers" will begin rolling off the production line there next month, and they will go to the U. S. Navy which is bearing the brunt of the warfare in the Pacific.

Emergency protective steps against sabotage there were invoked immediately on the declaration of hostilities, J. A. Williams, plant manager, announced. He said that such further steps as may be necessary will be taken as they are called for.

High steel mesh fences topped with barbed wire surround the plant and there is a 24-hour patrol inside and outside the buildings. Soon blackout curtains will be installed.

State Prepared

As for the state government, Governor Bricker said it has long been preparing "in every way for any crisis, including this in the Far East."

"Every department," he assured, "will be ready in every way to merge its efforts with the other states into the national war program. Ohio's place in this crisis will be a proud one, as it has been throughout our nation's history."

An immediate result of the state of war was a request by the Crosley Corporation in Cincinnati to the Civil Aeronautics Authority to declare Mason, O., in Warren County, a restricted area for air traffic.

Mason is the site of two of the powerful Crosley transmitters, the 500,000-watt experimental station of WLW and the 75,000-watt WLW International short wave outlet. James D. Shouse, vice president in charge of broadcasting, announced that the armed guard patrolling the grounds of the transmitters has been quadrupled and the stations placed in 24-hour service.

JAP ATTACKERS FORCED TO QUIT MALAYAN AREA

Hawaii, the Philippines, Wake Island and Guam.

From Manila came belated news of Japanese air attacks on various United States Army outposts and apparently definite disclosure that the Philippine capital has not yet been attacked.

Russians On Move

With the Russo-German war almost forgotten in the mounting tide of tension and excitement over the new conflict, the Russian high command held to its claims that the Nazis are retreating everywhere and announced that the vital Serpukov-Tula road has now been cleared of the enemy.

Singapore was bombed as Honolulu counted a death-toll of at least 350 troops and civilians in the initial, savage and warningless air attack carried out on Pearl Harbor and the Hawaiian capital yesterday which plunged the United States into war.

NBC listening stations heard a Tokyo broadcast admitting that Japanese troops had crossed the border of Thailand "in order to maintain the country's independence." Other broadcasts reported that the Japanese carrier which sent planes to raid Pearl Harbor had been torpedoed and sunk.

Canada led the British Dominions declaring war on Japan, followed by New Zealand, Australia and the Dutch East Indies. But even as the United States and Britain heard appeals for war declarations by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill, every other measure was taken to both nations upon a full war footing against Hitler's empire.

Naval battles were reported under way in the Pacific and American troops grappled in savage hand-to-hand combat with the little brown warriors who landed at Padang Sabah in an effort to cut the narrow throat of the Malay Peninsula and isolate Singapore.

Warships succeeded in launching a surprise attack on the United States fleet, including aircraft carriers, in the Hawaiian area. In Chinese waters, the United States gunboat Wake was captured and the British gunboat Petrel sunk at Shanghai.

Before the communiques were issued, the Japanese government broadcast an official proclamation by the emperor declaring war on the grounds that Britain and America failed to observe international law.

The President was cheered enthusiastically by both houses of Congress when he entered on the arm of his son, James, and with his military and naval aides at his side.

Lights were still burning in the oval room study of the White House in the small hours of the morning as a grim and purposeful commander-in-chief answered and dictated to Miss Grace Tully, his personal secretary.

It was apparent to all that Franklin Delano Roosevelt was prepared to lead the nation to a crushing finish of Japan's vicious aggressions in the Pacific theatre of war. Decisions were being made on a minute-to-minute basis. Orders were issued that swung units of the American battle fleet into action and instantly affected the future of millions of the nation's men.

Before the communiques were issued, the Japanese government broadcast an official proclamation by the emperor declaring war on the United States of America and the British Empire.

The men and officers of our Army and Navy shall do their utmost in prosecuting the war . . . the entire nation shall mobilize its total strength so that nothing mayмаршевъ . . .

More Measures Planned

The cabinet, it was announced, decided on "further measures" to supplement initial Japanese attacks on Hawaii and elsewhere on the progress of hostilities with Britain and America forces thus far.

White House Busy

From mid-afternoon Sunday, when first word of the far-flung Japanese attack on the Philippines, Hawaii and Guam began smashing in, the White House was a bedlam of activity.

President Secretary Stephen T. Early, from his Washington home gave the world its first shocking news that the Japanese had cast an all-out die with Adolf Hitler's Nazi hordes at 2:25 p.m.

Forty minutes later, Early faced the Oval Room study.

Mr. Roosevelt conferred with Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of the Navy Knox.

Then came word that an extraordinary session of the cabinet was to be convened at 8:30 p.m.

With the cabinet convened at approximately 8 a.m.

But they did not catch the defenders napping. The sharp bursts of anti-aircraft batteries almost immediately answered the whom of the exploding bombs, and several attacking planes were believed shot down.

The attacks came with startling suddenness when the minimum Sunday staffs were on duty at the Navy and Army posts, but it seemed seconds only before a circle of fire from anti-aircraft guns hit the oval room study.

The thud of falling bombs from a flight of between 50 and 100 Japanese planes, many of the mischievous huge aerial torpedoes, broke the Sunday calm on the paradise of the Pacific at approximately 8 a.m.

But they did not catch the defenders napping. The sharp bursts of anti-aircraft batteries almost immediately answered the whom of the exploding bombs, and several attacking planes were believed shot down.

Single Sophomore Makes Way Into Ohio State Quintet; Training Team Booked

COLUMBUS, Dec. 8—One sophomore, Bob Shaw, 198 pound football end from Fremont, will be included in Ohio State's opening basketball lineup Wednesday night when the Bucks open their season against the Great Lakes Naval Training Station quintet.

With Shaw's development for the middle assignment, Jack McLain, versatile senior from Columbus moves to guard where he will pair off with Captain Jack Graf, leaving the high scoring Dick Fisher and Fred Miller, to occupy the forward picket lines. Fisher was the Bucks high point maker in the Big Ten last season with 141 points which gave him third place in the Conference race behind

War Overshadows Any News That Might Develop From Conference

By Graham Hovey

CHICAGO, Dec. 8—Facing far graver problems than the usual buying and trading of players because of international events of the last 24 hours, officials of the Major League baseball clubs converged on Chicago today for their annual meeting.

Speculation on how American entry into World War No. 2 might affect the future of the national pastime, and particularly the 1942 season, completely overshadowed the usual shop-talk and gossip in gatherings of early arrivals last night.

Whether discussion of the possible repercussions of the war on baseball would be brought up at the formal sessions was problematical, because of the suddenness of the actual outbreak of hostilities and the certainty that no definite word regarding the 1942 baseball season would be forthcoming immediately from Washington, most of the early arrivals believed it unlikely that the discussions of the war's effect on the game would go beyond the informal stage, however.

Club officials agreed generally, however, that the international situation might slow up the trading and bring to a standstill all negotiations involving young players likely to be called into service.

So far as the formal meeting was concerned, routine business was expected to take up most of the time, with fireworks possible over a resolution anticipated on the night game situation.

More Night Games

Clark Griffin, owner of the Washington Senators, was expected to offer the resolution, which would permit teams to play 14 night games at home, rather than seven as at present. Strong opposition to the proposal was expected from the New York, Boston, Chicago and Brooklyn clubs of the National League and New York, Chicago, Boston and Cleveland of the American League.

Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox was still looking for an outfielder and seemed likely to wind up with Chet Laabs of the St. Louis Browns or Doc Cramer of Washington. The Cubs were still interested in Johnny Mize, the St. Louis Cardinal first baseman, and hoped to peddle Pitcher Bill Lee.

The Dodgers and Giants were reported to be continuing negotiations involving Catchers Harry Danning and Babe Phelps; Pitchers Cliff Melton and Luke Hamlin and Infielder Harry Lavagetto. Brooklyn also was interested in Arky Vaughan of the Pirates, and the report persisted that Dolph Camilli, the Dodger first baseman, might go on the block.

TIGER QUINTET GOES TO LONDON AND GROVE CITY

Circleville High Tigers, defeated in their cage games with Lancaster and Greenfield, will try their luck on foreign courts next week end, traveling to London Friday night and to Grove City Saturday night.

Captain Johnny Woods, first string forward, is limping as the result of an ankle twist suffered in the McClain game. He is expected to be ready for the London invasion, however.

Games on the county schedule this week include Darby at Deer Creek, Perry at Walnut, Jackson at New Holland, Washington at Pickaway and Monroe at Salt Creek.

Still at Mizzou

Don Faurot, University of Missouri football coach, whose team captured the Big Six championship and a bid to the Sugar Bowl, has rejected an offer to take the gridiron post at the University of Illinois vacated by Bob Zuppke. Instead, Faurot signed a new one-year contract at Missouri, which increased his salary from $7,500 to $10,000.

BUCKLEW STEPS OUT AS CHIEF OF BULLIE OUTFIT

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 8—Phil Bucklew, who coached the Columbus, O., Bulls to three straight championships in the American Professional Football League, today stepped from his position as president and pilot in a shakeup of the team's front office.

Carroll Owen, business manager, also resigned. Dean Carter and Dean Van Camp, Cincinnati businessmen and co-owners of the club, named George Monday, lineman formerly with the New York Giants in the National Pro Loop, to succeed Bucklew and Owen.

The Bulls lost yesterday to the Hollywood Bears, 21 to 9, thus giving the latter squad which holds the Pacific Coach Title, a claim to the "Little World Championship" of pro football.

Duke Favored To Win; Other Games Toss-ups

By Jack Mahon

NEW YORK, Dec. 8—The curtain has come down on the football season after what might be termed a delayed time bomb explosion of Texas football power and fans today sought to determine comparative strength of bowl rivals on New Year's Day.

In the Rose Bowl, Duke will meet Oregon State, in the Sugar Bowl Fordham is to meet Missouri, in the Cotton Bowl Texas A. & M. will tangle with Alabama while in the Orange Bowl the University of Georgia is to face Texas Christian.

It is hard to see just how anyone but Duke can be favored in the Rose Bowl game. Texas University, which has been up and down this year, after a great start, finished the season with the most devastating display of power turned loose in the southwest this year in routing the University of Oregon club 71-7.

Oregon, remember, had beaten the strong Santa Clara club and Washington and had forced Oregon State to come from behind to squeeze out a 12-7 win. Texas A. & M. made it a banner day for its conference by knocking off Washington State, considered by many the best team on the coast. 7 to 0.

Duke Odds-On

If these two teams can run off the two best on the coast it is almost a sure thing bet to string along with the power-driven bowl games. Don't say we didn't warn you and the odds on any one of them should not be very high.

In other games around the country as the legion of Saturday's children bade farewell to another football year were Rice 6, Southern Methodist 0, USC 7, UCLA 7, Mississippi State 26, San Francisco 13, and Utah 12, Arizona 6.

Be seeing you at the bowl; and we don't mean shaving bowl.

ARMY AIR CORPS IN EAST CALLS MEN TO PLACES

NEW YORK, Dec. 8—A request of Army Air Corps authorities at Mitchel Field that ground observers of the first interceptor command report at once to their posts in 13 eastern seaboard states and the District of Columbia was broadcast by NBC to against Fordham. Yet the Christians finished the season well, beating Baylor, Centenary, Texas and Southern Methodist. Yet they were held to a scoreless tie by Rice, a team which certainly didn't rank with either the Georgians or the Rams.

So, except for the Duke team, off the comparative scores dodge, you have three toss-up bowl games. Don't say we didn't warn you and the odds on any one of them should not be very high.

A day's holiday, with freedom from all military activities was the reward of the members of the 112th Medical Regiment, commanded by Colonel Harry D. Jackson, Circleville, for being so outstanding, in performance and appearance in the recent divisional parade at Camp Shelby, Miss. The troops were reviewed by their commander, Major General Robert S. Beightler.

The unit was commended in a letter by General Beightler which stated:

"The Divisional Commander was pleased at the notable performance of many units at the Review of the 37th Division on November 29, and desires to commend the 112th Medical Regiment for its precision in marching and general outstanding appearance.

REPORTING IN

REMEMBER the famous story of Edward Everett Hale of the "Man Without a Country" and the grief it caused him all his life? Many Americans must have thought of it as they read a news story the other day of the Soldier Without a Discharge.

He walked into an army headquarters at Fort McPherson, in Atlanta, and said he wanted to "report in," as men do after army leave. That closed an incident and an era. The notation showed that he had left camp on a ten-day leave May 19, 1919. The interval was a little matter of 22 and a half years.

The absentee explained that he had gone home, suffered an emotional shock and overstayed his time until he was afraid to go back. After the war he reported at the fort, but he had no uniform and the record was lost and nobody would believe his story. He worried about it. Nine years ago he tried again to make his record straight, but was not taken seriously. He had married, established a business and succeeded in life, except for this one thing.

So now he "reports in" and insists on it. He wants a clear record and an honorable discharge. And he wants to serve his country now as a mechanic to make up for his former lapse.

Doesn't that give every good American a glow around the heart?

GOVERNMENTAL ERRORS

CONGRESS finds it a formidable task to frame the price control and labor legislation now before it for action. It is "hard to please all the people," the lawmakers say.

If that is what troubles them, a change of attitude should make their job a great deal easier. For pleasing all the people is not the first responsibility of Congress.

PEW AND WEIR HELP GOP

WAshington — The bank account of the Republican National Committee continues to be as bare as Mother Hubbard's cupboard, but the money situation appears to be looking up for the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee. This is the organization which provides funds for GOP candidates running for election to the House of Representatives.

Inside word is that the boys who have quietly undertaken to fatten the Campaign Committee's lean war chest are Pennsylvania oil millionaire Joe Pew and Pennsylvania steel millionaire Ernest Weir.

To National Chairman Joe Martin and Representative J. W. Ditter of Pennsylvania, head of the Campaign Committee, this is the best kind of good news, for Pew and Weir have been very generous contributors in the past. After the 1936 debacle, Pew, almost single-handed, took the National Committee out of the red. Also he has been the chief financial mainstay of the Pennsylvania GOP in recent years. Weir has been a good second in donations.

But the jubilation of Martin and Ditter is not general in inner Republican circles. Other GOP chiefs are privately asking what the Pew-Weir development means regarding the party's stand on the international issue in next year's crucial state and congressional elections.

This question will overshadow all others. It will be the decisive battleground of the campaign. The Democrats will wage their fight squarely on the Roosevelt defense and foreign policy record. But the Republicans are hotly at odds among themselves.

Publicly the millionaires have not declared themselves. But the records of Ditter and Martin, who head the two GOP Committees, are incontrovertible.

Both have followed the America First line in voting on foreign policy measures.

What the antis are asking is whether Pew and Weir are going to put up the money to take the Republican party, under the isolationist leadership of Martin and Ditter, into the America First camp in next year's election campaign; or whether the Pew-Weir-Martin-Ditter strategy is to try to duck the foreign issue entirely and campaign on other questions.

Whatever the undercover plan, it is due for airing at the National Committee (Continued on Page Ten) the representative government upon which our democracy rests.

The Windsors were "terribly sad" about leaving the U.S.A. Perhaps tropical seas have been overrated.

What the totalitarians mean by "co-operation" is that the free nations should let themselves be kicked around, and like it.

People won't drive sensibly, so we'll have to make cars stronger and better padded.

WORLD AT A GLANCE . . . . .

—By—
Charles F. Stewart

FROM British activity in north and eastern Africa, where Benito Mussolini has been trying to build up a colonial empire, American strategists draw the conclusion that John Bull is concentrating upon a tremendous effort to knock Italy entirely out of the war, which naturally, if the plan succeeds, will be a resounding crack at Herr Hitler, too.

It is one of the grave concerns of the present time that timidity, emotion and confusion in Congress and selfishness and shortsightedness outside are allowed to play havoc with the efficient operation of for leading them into a conflict that they didn't want to participate in, of any time, with the resultant loss of their colonies and a lot of their sons' lives.

WHAT MAY HAPPEN

Benito doubtless is too thoroughly tangled in his bargain with Adolf to get out of it, but his home folk certainly can overthrow him, maybe bump him off, and who ever succeeds him will be very apt to chuck the Fascist tie-up with the Nazis into the discard.

In turn, it can't but be bad for the Nazis' morale to have their Fascist partners quit on 'em.

SPAIN NOT TOO "SAFE"

In Spain, however, it isn't altogether safe betting that Franco's openly friendly to the Fuehrer, the Iberian peninsula manifestly would be a grand taking-off-place, for the Nazis, into northwestern Africa—just a plane hop of a minute or two across the western Mediterranean strait and from there on down to much-talked-about Dakar.

Hitler, of course, is trying to bolster up the Italians' African resistance. He's tolerably busy elsewhere, though. Furthermore, Africa's a most inconvenient locality for him to get much aid into. His flyers can do some damage, but the Italians evidently need more than that.

Comrade Stalin intimates that he'd rather have Britain smash Germany than center attention on the Fascists in Africa. It's understandable why he feels thus about it. The Italians aren't bothering Russia. All the same, a lot of republicans remain in Spain, ready to rebel at the first good opportunity.

With General de Gaulle on the rampage, France possibly isn't so Nazi-istically dependable, either.

Italy's a kind of a crux of the situation.

Let the Italian prop be knocked from under the Axis card house and guesses are made that the whole structure's soon become pretty rickety.

It's an Axis power, hardly figures.

It's too far from the eastern Mediterranean scene.

Home Water Treatments Can Give Relief

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

• A recent article in this column on the use of water in treatment has brought such a favorable response from several of my valued

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

readers who have urged me to continue the discussion, that this article is in the nature of a "by request" contribution.

Water can be used in treatment by varying its modalities—hot and cold, still and moving, and the length of time employed. A cold stream of water played on the body forcibly from a hose has a different effect from a hot bath in the bath tub and almost endless variations of these simple modalities can be used in various diseases.

It must be remembered also that they can be used either for local affections or for general conditions. For instance, a hot pack on an infected finger is an example of local treatment, and enveloping the entire body in a wet pack overnight is an example of general treatment for the purpose of inducing sleep and overcoming fatigue and nervousness.

The simplicity of the technique of the affusion idea has caused it to be neglected for more complicated and spectacular forms of treatment. It is valuable in any condition which is accompanied by fatigue, nervous exhaustion and characterized by loss of tone and resilience.

The effect of the affusion is not the same as that of a cold bath and not the same as a cold shower.

The shock caused by a broad stream of cold water is the secret of its effectiveness. In the case of the weak patient it is well to begin with warmer water and gradually reach the colder temperature.

It can be carried out in the evening before going to bed day after day for many weeks in succession.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

C. E. C.:—"What causes St. Vitus dance? Is it easily cured?"

Answer: St. Vitus dance, which the doctors call chorea, is an inflammatory disease related to inflammatory rheumatism. It affects the nervous system and causes the patient to make continuous purposeless movements. It responds very well to treatment. An attack lasts about two months.

The simplicity of the technique of the affusion idea has caused it to be neglected for more complicated and spectacular forms of treatment. It is valuable in any condition which is accompanied by fatigue, nervous exhaustion and characterized by loss of tone and resilience.

The effect of the affusion is not the same as that of a cold bath and not the same as a cold shower.

The shock caused by a broad stream of cold water is the secret of its effectiveness. In the case of the weak patient it is well to begin with warmer water and gradually reach the colder temperature.

It can be carried out in the evening before going to bed day after day for many weeks in succession.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

C. E. C.:—"What causes St. Vitus dance? Is it easily cured?"

Answer: St. Vitus dance, which the doctors call chorea, is an inflammatory disease related to inflammatory rheumatism. It affects the nervous system and causes the patient to make continuous purposeless movements. It responds very well to treatment. An attack lasts about two months.

Dorothy Jane Miller,
Otis Anderson Marry

Columbus Church
Scene Of Vows
Sunday

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Dorothy Jane Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Miller of 2022 Doren Avenue, Columbus, and Mr. Otis LeRoy Anderson, 96 Hanford Street, Columbus, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Anderson, formerly of Circleville.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the Hillcrest Baptist Church, Columbus, with the Rev. G. J. MacDonald officiating.

Baskets of white chrysanthemums and white candles burning in two seven-branch candelabra were features of the decorations of the palm and fern-banked altar.

Miss Ruth Humphreys, organist, included "Moonlight and Roses," "At Dawn" and "Liebestraum" in her wedding music, with the three Trappee sisters singing.

Master Jimmy Palm of Circleville, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a gown of white silk, satin, fashioned on princess lines, and wore with it a fingertip veil of bridal illusion. She wore a strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. Her arm bouquets were of gladioli and snapdragons.

Miss Alice Miller wore blue taffeta trimmed with matching velvet as she served as maid of honor for her sister. Her flowers were yellow pompons.

Miss Ann Chambers, Columbus, was bridesmaid. Her pink taffeta frock was complemented with orchid pompons.

Mr. Walter Meyers was best man for Mr. Anderson. Mr. Homer Anderson and Mr. Victor Miller serving as ushers.

Fifty guests were entertained at a reception by Mr. and Mrs. Miller, parents of the bride, following the wedding.

Baskets of colorful pompons were used throughout the home.

Mrs. Miller wore gold and Mrs. Anderson, black, when they joined the bridal party in receiving the guests.

Refreshments were served from the bride's table centered with a three-tier wedding cake, and attractively decorated with candles and flowers.

The bride wore a chocolate brown plaid suit with buff accessories when the couple left for a short wedding trip.

They will reside at 141½ South Ogden Avenue, Columbus, where the bridegroom is associated with the A. & P. Tea Co.

Circleville guests at the wedding were Mrs. Robert Wilkinson, Mrs. Amos Palm, Miss Virginia Palm, Miss Helen Fausbaugh, Mrs. Gladys Wiggin, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Anderson and Mr. Adolphus Pearce Jr.

Pickaway Garden Club

Attractive holiday decorations were used in the home when Mrs. Clark K. Hunsicker, West Union Street, was hostess to members of the Pickaway County Garden Club, Friday. Forty members and guests were present.

R. L. Brehm, presented a splendid talk on "Holiday Decorations."

During the evening, refreshments were served by Mrs. Hunicker, assisted by Mrs. C. P. Heiskell, Mrs. E. O. Crites, Mrs. H. S. Lewis, Mrs. Noah G. Spangler, Mrs. Thomas Hughes and Mrs. N. Turney Weldon.

The Christmas arrangements displayed by members at the meeting were exchanged during the social hour.

Miss Mary Heffner, East Mound Street, will entertain the club January 3.

Mrs. Dunlap Entertains

Mrs. John H. Dunlap Jr., of Williamsport delightfully entertained her contract bridge club at a Christmas party Friday at her home.

An arrangement of evergreens and red candles around a silver Yule log centered the table where dinner was served at 7 p. m.

Covers were placed for Mrs. Lee Luellen, Mrs. Sam B. Metzger, Mrs. Harry McGhee, Mrs. Fred Tipton, Miss Laura Mc-

RICHARD LIGHTLE STRUCK BY AUTO OF CINCINNATIAN

Motorist Exonerated By State Patrol After Fatal Accident

State Highway Patrolmen, Monday, exonerated Adolph Kuehler, 33, Cincinnati, of blame in the traffic death Sunday afternoon of Richard Lightle, 60, of Derby. The fatal accident happened on the CCC highway near Derby Corners, north of Mount Sterling, in Pickaway County.

Acting Coroner B. T. Hedges who investigated the accident returned a verdict of accidental death, declaring that a skull fracture had killed Mr. Lightle instantly.

Mr. Lightle, a widely known resident of Derby, was walking in the highway when he was struck, patrolmen said. After their preliminary investigation of the mishap they freed the Cincinnati man.

Mr. Lightle suffered a fractured skull and fractures of both legs. He was a farm laborer.

Survivors include his widow and a son, Fay Lightle of Five Points.

The funeral will be Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the E. T. Snyder Funeral Home, Mount Sterling.

Clay Hitlers And Daughter Injured

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Hitler and their daughter, Martha of Washington Township were injured Sunday at 3:30 p.m. when their automobile crashed into a concrete bridge over Toad Run on Route 56.

All three were taken to Berger Hospital in the Defenbaugh ambulance. Clay Hitler, 63, suffered multiple cuts on the face and neck. His wife, Jennie, 62, received a cut over the left eye, a fractured right wrist and a left leg fracture below the knee. His daughter, Martha, 24, was cut on the forehead and chin and suffered sprained ligaments of the ankle. She was discharged from the hospital Sunday night after treatment.

Deputy Sheriff Bryan Custer said the accident happened as the Hitlers were returning home. The daughter, Martha, was driving. Their automobile, a 1940 Ford, badly damaged around the front end, was towed into Circleville.

Custer reported another accident on the CCC highway near Mt. Sterling Sunday at 7:30 p.m. when two cars, driven by Dale Vincent, 18, Washington C. H., and C. B. Laire, Cincinnati sideswiped on a curve two miles east of Mt. Sterling. Laire was treated for cuts and bruises by a Mt. Sterling physician.

Neither Vincent nor a companion, Jack Reno, 18, also of Washington C. H., was injured.

MAN AWAITING TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE IS DEAD

COLUMBUS, Dec. 8.—Coroner E. E. Smith today probed the death of Guy O. Holcomb, 38, former auditor for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., and who was under indictment for second degree murder in connection with the slaying of his wife.

Holcomb was found dead, apparently of natural causes, in his car at the home of his mother. It was reported that he recently had complained of heart pains.

Holcomb's wife, Hazel, was shot fatally during a scuffle September 13. He contended that the pistol was discharged as he attempted to wrest it from her. He had been free on $1,500 bond since his indictment.

CANADIANS SET FOR WAR ACTION

Declaration Comes Ahead Of Moves From London Or Washington

OTTAWA, Dec. 8—Canada beat the United States and Great Britain to the gun today with a declaration of war against Japan and enforced strict defensive measures in the western part of the Dominion.

The war declaration was issued last night after a three-hour meeting of the cabinet council. Simultaneously the western command of the Canadian air force cancelled all leaves and called in its full personnel for duty.

Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King declared:

"There is a complete understanding between Canada, the United States and Great Britain. Canadian soldiers will serve wherever they can be of the greatest service."

The Japanese minister to Ottawa is being handed his passport. The prime minister stated:

"He and his staff will leave Canada to return to his country as soon as arrangements are completed for the return to this country of Canadian diplomatic officials and trade commissioners now in Japan."

SHERMAN RUDISILL, 74, DIES; RITES WEDNESDAY

Sherman Rudisill, 74, a retired farmer, died Sunday at 5:15 p.m. at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Gerald Majors, 489 East Franklin Street. He had been ill a month.

Survivors include Mrs. Majors, two other daughters, Mrs. Warner Dreischach of Circleville and Mrs. Edward Parish of Circleville RFD; a son, Lee, of Pomeroy; seven grandchildren; six great-grandchildren; two brothers, Perry of Geneva and Arch of McComb, O., and two sisters, Mrs. Lucrilla Phingst of Indiana and Mrs. Tillie Hubarger of Findlay, O.

The funeral will be Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Hitler-Ludwig Chapel, the Rev. O. F. Gibbs officiating. Burial will be in the adjoining cemetery by Crates and Van Cleve. The body will be at the Majors home where friends may call after 7:30 p.m. Monday.

when he was Ambassador to Mexico. In the Navy, he believed in wiping out class lines between officers and men; in Mexico he believed in cultivating human relationships.

When Josephus first went to Mexico he was stoned because they remembered him as Secretary of the Navy when Tamayo was fired on in 1917. But when he left Mexico, children pointed to him in the streets as "the American Ambassador, a great and good man." Daniels believed in human friendships rather than writing notes, and he had a lot to do with the change which gradually has come over relations with our southern neighbor.

Daniels left Mexico only because of his wife. He did not want to leave, but she had been ill a long time and the high altitude increased her suffering. She, however, never complained, never asked him to return.

Note:—First job offered Josephus after his resignation was as editor of the Ocracoke Island (N. C.) Beacon. Himself a publisher, Daniels replied: "I hope from time to time to act as contributing editor, but you will have to give me a little time to brush up on my newspaper stories. I have been out of practice, but will get the hang of it before long."

A long wet spell kills an immense number of rabbits. Many are drowned in their burrows, and the greater number die from disease which is perhaps caused by a constant diet of wet grass.

All of this time will not be occupied by drill and study, however, as the new recruit will have an

PONTIUS YOUTH BEGINS TRAINING AT GREAT LAKES

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Dec. 8—Ronald Victor Pontius, 20, of Circleville RFD 1, began his career in the United States Navy December 5 when he reported for duty at the U. S. Naval Training Station here.

At the close of a six-week period of basic seamanship training, Pontius will be given a 10-day furlough. He then will report back to the station for assignment to active duty at sea or to one of the many navy technical schools.

Starvation marches with Hitler. But he doesn't eat much. All he wants is victories.

opportunity to participate in free entertainment and recreation provided by the Navy. This includes free movies Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and roller skating Tuesdays and Thursdays. The skating is co-educational, with the Chaplains and Station Hostesses inviting girls from nearby communities to attend.

The station, located on the shore of Lake Michigan about 40 miles north of Chicago, receives recruits from the entire Ninth Naval District, an expanse of territory extending from Ohio to the Dakotas and from Missouri to the Canadian border, and is the largest naval district in the country.

"Do your Christmas shopping early" has never meant more than it does this year. Only very few of the items shown here can now be obtained from manufacturers or distributors. That means when our (and other dealers') stocks are gone there will be no more available until after Christmas. We believe that we have a sufficient stock to take care of the needs of our customers, but for best selection "do your Christmas shopping early!"
